

Famous Statisticians

Sir Ronald Fisher (1890–1962) is an English statistician evolutionary biologist, eugenicist, and geneticist who developed the F-distribution and popularized significance testing within hypothesis tests.

[REDACTED]

