

Formative Assessment

- A. Determine if each statement is true or false.
1. The expected value of a random variable is a measure of central location.
 2. In the computation of the mean of a random variable, the weights are always constant.
-

